

Corporate Membership

Your most cost-effective way to provide quality content, career enhancement and a global network for your team.

Benefits of membership

Organizations of all sizes and in all industries enroll their communicators in IABC. Whether you work for a corporation, a nonprofit, a government agency, an educational institution, or a consulting firm, employers looking to support the professional growth of their communication teams, increase employee engagement and show employee appreciation should consider a corporate membership package.

- Corporate membership packages are more cost-effective than individual memberships.
- Any group of five or more individuals from the same company may bundle their memberships for a low corporate rate.
- There are no application fees for corporate memberships.

HOW IT WORKS

IABC's corporate membership package offers a low, flat rate per person, based on the size of the group. The more people in the group, the lower the rate:

- Bronze (5-15 members): US$300 per person
- Silver (16-30 members): US$290 per person
- Gold (31-74 members): US$275 per person
- Platinum (75+ members): US$260 per person

The pricing structure is designed to be more convenient and cost-effective for global companies, to streamline the joining and renewal processes, and to offer an affordable solution for companies wishing to enroll more members.

WHAT YOU GET

Corporate members get all IABC member benefits, plus:

- One low, flat rate per person.
- The convenience of easy renewal.
- Priority service.
- A 10% discount on IABC World Conference registrations.
- A 10% discount on IABC Job Centre postings.
- Free membership transfer if a member leaves your company within the first 9 months, protecting your investment.
